

Choose Columbia
Columbia Economic Development Corporation

Rachel Levine

Columbia Economic Development Corporation Board of Directors

After 30 years in Advertising & Branding in NYC, I made the official move to Germantown in 2020. For the past decade or so, I would travel back & forth on the weekends, working toward creating a life in upstate, and a dream I worked toward for a long time. Being able to work with my partner, Martin Lueck, who owns Central House Hotel in town, gave me a perfect entrée in to the Hudson Valley.

Together, Martin and I manage The Central House, and are partners in Art & Collaboration, LLC. Some of our work together includes owning and managing property, improvement and preservation of local historic properties, and aim to continue developing community assets for generations to come.

In addition, I work with Patricia A. Hinkein Realty in Germantown as a licensed real estate salesperson.

In addition, the community work I do and have done is:

- I sit on the Germantown Zoning Board of Appeals.
- Was selected to sit on the Germantown Short-Term Rental committee.
- Head of Germantown Arts & Tourism 2016-18

I love being a part of the local community and making friends with everyone, from locals to new folks.