

Jonathan Miller

Columbia Economic Development Corporation Board of Directors

Jonathan Miller is a financial professional with Northway Financial Group and New York Life. His career also spans entrepreneurship and filmmaking: he has founded several creative ventures and produced The Last Out, an Emmy Award winning documentary. He brings experience in financial planning, business development, fundraising, and collaborative project leadership.

A Chatham resident, Jonathan serves as co-clerk of the Committee on Cultural and Structural Change at the Haverford College Corporation and participates in the Austerlitz Climate Action Committee. He is interested in supporting local businesses and helping Columbia County grow thoughtfully and sustainably.